
q is the fraction of saturated water loading; 50 H2O corresponds to q = 16.76%.
Experimental points are digitized; dashed lines connect the supplied points.
Simulation shading: combined standard uncertainty.